

Course Materials for Continuing Education Course

10203 Positive Psychology Interventions: A Randomized Placebo Controlled Online Study [1 credit]

Course Syllabus is on Page 2

Course Materials begin on Page 3

Registered Courses and Course Quizzes can be accessed on your My Account page.

Custom Continuing Education, LLC is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. Custom Continuing Education, LLC maintains responsibility for this program and its content.

We are a member run professional learning cooperative offering High Quality, Peer-Reviewed Online Continuing Education for Psychologists and related professionals.

More information is available online at CustomCE.com.

Course Syllabus

Course Description: This online text-based course introduces the learner to the concept of well-being from a positive psychology perspective. Based on a peer-reviewed article, this course will provide an overview of well-being and its impact on health, social relationships, work, and resilience. The research supporting the link between well-being and crucial life domains will be reviewed and implications, gaps in the research, and practical applications are discussed.

Course Objectives (Learning Outcomes): By successfully completing this course, the learner will be able to:

1. Provide an overview of well-being from a positive psychology perspective
2. Identify and discuss the links between well-being and crucial life domains like health, social relationships, work, and resilience
3. Identify implications and interventions related to well-being and prevention work

Course Category: Treatment and Evidence-Based Practice, Ethics and Professional Standards

Credits: 1.0

Fees: $10.00 to register for CE Credit (Must pass Course Quiz to earn credit). Refund Policy. This course is included for free in the Unlimited Membership.

Last Revision: November, 2018

Audience and Course Level: This course is appropriate for Psychologists, Mental Health Counselors, Social Workers, and Marriage and Family Therapists who incorporate positive psychology and well-being into their professional practice. The course level is considered introductory since it introduces the learner to well-being and its links with crucial life domains.

Course Utility and Potential Risks/Conflicts: The utility of this course lies in helping practitioners better utilize well-being research and interventions. The course does not include clinical training or certification. This course is not sponsored by any commercial organizations and no potential conflicts of interest are noted.

Course Instructors: This course was developed by Chris Heffner, PhD, PsyD, LP.

Course Materials: Materials for this course were published in the Journal of Positive Psychology and Well-Being, a peer-reviewed open access journal.

Publication Date: November, 2018

Format: PDF (CustomCE Course 10203.pdf)

Technical Requirements: Internet Access for Course Quiz, PDF Viewer (e.g., Acrobat Reader) for Course Materials.

Additional Requirements: None

Suggested Prerequisites: None

Course Materials

The materials for this course were published in the peer-reviewed Frontiers in Psychology and are available as a pdf document from the National Institutes of Health at <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4873493/pdf/fpsyg-07-00686.pdf>.